This section provides instructions to navigate the enrollment process and paperwork for the Army, Marine Corps, Navy, and Air Force. Enrollment forms are listed on each page, as applicable.

NOTE: Members of the Guard or Reserves may enroll in the EFMP according to Service-specific guidance.

EFMP family support assists families with special needs by helping them identify and access programs and services. EFMP family support includes, but is not limited to: information and referral for military and community services, non-clinical case management, the assessment of family needs, the development of an individualized Services Plan (SP), local school and Early Intervention Services (EIS) information, and warm handoffs when a family transfers to a new location.

While enrollment in the EFMP is mandatory for Active Duty Service members, EFMP family support will still provide services to Service members not enrolled in the EFMP and will help enroll families with special needs into the program.

C. INTRODUCTION TO FAMILY TRAVEL SCREENING

Family Travel Screening helps to ensure that Service members are assigned to locations that can support their families' needs.

Family Travel Screening is required for all families being considered for accompanied OCONUS assignments. The availability of medical and/or educational services to support the needs of EFMP families must be verified for all locations prior to travel approval. Depending on Service-specific guidance, Family Travel Screening may also be conducted for families enrolled in the EFMP for CONUS assignments.

As part of the Family Travel Screening process, the Service member and his/her family complete a medical and educational screening. When special needs are identified during the screening, enrollment in the EFMP should be initiated.

This section provides instructions and paperwork to prepare families for the Army, Marine Corps, Navy, and Air Force Family Travel Screening processes. Screening forms are listed on each page, as applicable.

NOTE: Soldiers who enroll in the EFMP after the receipt of OCONUS assignment instructions need to be aware that enrollment will not affect that assignment. If general medical care is not available, the Soldier may be required to serve an "all others" tour.
